This matter comes before the Court upon the parties conflicting motions for a discovery plan. A hearing was held on this matter on June 11, 2009. After hearing the arguments reviewing the pleadings the Court has decided that it is in the best interests of justice and most prudent use of judicial resources to allow the parties to conduct discovery relating to class certification. Additionally, any party deposed for the purpose of class certification may also be questioned on the merits of the case. Furthermore, the plaintiff has ten days to amend his pleadings.

IT IS SO ORDERED.
